

Alternate Summer Math Calendar

Entering Grade _____

If the activities suggested do not seem to “fit” your child, or if you have your own websites/literature/math practice you’d like to do, you can create your own math calendar. Feel free to substitute your own activities in this Alternate Summer Math Calendar or mix-and-match some of the grade-level activities with some other activities that better suit your needs or learning style. All we ask is that you document your created activities below. Remember: the goal is to complete 20 activities each month so you may need to print this sheet twice!
